“ I've started writing, and then erased my comments, many times over. I just don't seem to be able to put the right words to express this loss. My thoughts are with the family. I pray for you daily. I've known and worked with Chris from his first day at Givaudan. I always got a kick out of his "competitive" side. Suddenly that calm spoken guy changed, when a good competition was at hand. We use to make NFL bets for milk shakes from UDF. He hated to lose, and loved to let you know when he won. All in good fun! He was taken too early, but God must have had a reason. R.I.P. Chris!

“ My deepest sympathy to Chris's family and friends. He was the best colleague, always helpful, kind and so intelligent! There was no one better at helping me solve problems, while making me smile at his great sense of humor. We are deeply diminished by his loss, and will not be able to replace him. So grateful for the chance to know him, and very sad that he is gone much too soon.
