“Sis. Jessica was such a holy example that will be sorely missed. She had loads of God given musical talent that was nurtured by her parents and supported by her husband. Together Ben and Jess could have conquered the music industry but they used their talents for God. So many memories of music lessons that turned into special visiting times in her home. The sweet times we shared when my dad went to Heaven then a few months later her dad went too. We laughed, we cried, we talked about the day we would see all our family and friends who are waiting in Heaven.

I appreciate all that Sister Jessica did for me personally. I had a desire musically and she helped me so much to work towards that goal.

Jessica was a smart business woman, a wonderful home maker, and quite the accomplished gluten free baker. When you walked into her home you felt at ease. It was a peaceful place to relax, sip tea, and just chat with her. I am so thankful she made it to Heaven it is truly what she lived for.

She left a gaping hole in our hearts, the congregation, the Kingdom of God, and the community. I am so thankful she was a part of our lives and was a big sister/dear friend to our son. It has been a blessing to watch her grow from a child to the beautiful lady she was. Her passing makes the song "Heaven Holds All to Me" so much sweeter. Truly, When We All get Heaven it will be a big reunion. ☐☐

“ So sorry to hear of the loss of sweet Jessica. I watched her from a child as she grew into a precious young lady and grew to appreciate her and admire her talent and gift she used for the Lord. She was always a blessing to me and her sweet smile and testimony was an encouragement. I loved Sis. Jessica and cherish the memories I have of her and her friendship. No words I can say will offer the kind of comfort that only God can. I pray that God will comfort you Bro Ben and Sis. Karla and the rest of the family and congregation in the days ahead.

“ What a beautiful woman inside and out. I will miss playing flute with you. ☐ You got all the parts the rest of us couldn't get. You were an amazing pianist that inspired so many of us.

Jessica happily shared chords and lyrics to songs which in turn has enhanced so many of our services. She lived her life to the fullest. Jessica did more in her 38 years than most do that live to 70 and beyond.

Most of all, it was so obvious that Jessica loved God. ❤️ More than any of her accomplishments, her greatest is that she made it to Heaven. I can only imagine what she is enjoying right now....the most phenomenal orchestra and choir that she's ever experienced!!

Looking forward to sitting beside you in the Heavenly flute section one day. 😊 It was such an honor to be one of your friends. I will miss you.

“ Words surely don't begin to tell how much Jess will be missed! From being a child til now there are so many memories I could tell of. Vacations together as children, spending countless weekends as a young person with Poppie and Marma, Jess and Nick and hanging out so many weekends together with all us friends. So many highlights of my life I'll never forget. Jess was a true friend and someone I looked up to so much! Her smile lit the room where ever she was. She was devoted to God, her amazing piano playing, her family and friends. Heaven gained a warrior. Love you Jess! You will forever be missed! Marma, I love you much! You're in our thoughts and prayers every day. Ben (Big Brother) you're special to us and I pray for healing and comfort thru this, Bro and Sister Price, Love you so much and praying for healing at this time. May God so help all the family at this time. Jess made her reward and I'm looking forward to that day to see her again. God will see us all thru this!

“ You were perfect. You knew me better than anyone else. Inside and out. We could look across a crowded room and catch each other’s glance and knew exactly what the other was thinking. You are woven into the fabric of every memory of my life. You were my sister. My best friend. My confidant. My hero. The most talented human being I’ve ever known. I would turn on your music and listen of you play piano for hours. I was always so proud of you and loved to tell people that you were my sister. You have been a steady beam of radiant light and joy since the moment you were brought to this earth. And you cast that beam on so many children, teenagers, and friends; we will all carry a piece of you in our hearts forever. You were a vision of Jesus in every thing you did, and you loved Him more than any unfulfilled dream you carried in your heart. You never wavered in your devotion to Him or in your passion for His work. You were a friend to the friendless. You were just like your daddy. You were the Mary Poppins auntie of our family. You poured your heart into every one of your nieces and nephews. You are their hero too. To say I’m broken is a vast understatement. But your light will never dim in my heart. I love you Jess. Now and forever. You are Home.

Music, jungle Jim's, spending the nights together just having the time of our lives. We would laugh over nothing and cry together over different heartbreaks. As we grew up and matured in life we could still laugh and feel like we were never apart. I will always cherish our trips Ana and I took to
