Jesse has been a part of our lives forever. We will miss you, buddy! We'll miss all the laughter & fun when you were around. The endless hours of seeing you & David together. It seemed if we saw one, we saw the other. When you weren't together, Jesse was quick to tell us what "my son did for me today" or "where me & David went today", "David's meeting me here later", "look what my son got for me". The list is endless & we will miss that so much. Jesse always bragged on David, his whole world seemed to revolve around everything David. That was the relationship my Mom & I had. As I miss that so much, I will miss the daily updates on yours as well <3
