“Joyce, may have left this earth, but she left us with an important lesson, to be kind to everyone you meet, listen with interest when someone is speaking with you and never let an opportunity to encourage someone pass you by. Even in these more recent years when pain would overwhelm many of us, Joyce never missed an opportunity to live that lesson every day. Joyce will be missed - her smile, her hugs, the encouraging word. We all can learn from her example. My deepest sympathies and prayer for the family. Joyce, I'll see you again, I'm sure.

“You have my sympathy. Both my wife and I were good friends of Joyce. Anita knew her from working at Ohio Causality and Joyce and I worked together on the Republican candidates. Tom Barnes

“As a reporter for the Hamilton Journal, I looked forward to my encounters with Joyce, whether it was running into her on High Street or calling for background on a story. She was always accessible, always personable, and always helpful. The world is a lesser place without her vibrant personality and infectious smile. My condolences to her family.

“ Dear Tracy, I am so very sorry. Your mom was always such a special woman; I saw her at Hydes once in a while so looked for her every time I went in there. I will always miss her. Prayers for you.

“ Red was just one of those people “easy to love”. She was such a warm, loving, outgoing person. I'm sure when she left here, she was borne on the wings of angels. RIP, sweet friend. 💜🙏
