“ I’ve known Nancy since elementary school. Later in life I had the pleasure of having Patrick in class at Monroe Elementary. She was a special mother for sure. Once again our paths crossed when we both worked in Fairfield. and met up again at Miami University supervising student teachers. Nancy was beautiful inside and out and she left this physical world way too soon. Bobby, Patrick and Brett I leave you with my favorite quote that one day I hope you can understand after the pain lessens- “Don’t cry because it’s over, smile because it happened.” Love and prayers to you all. “ I am so sorry that we have lost our beloved Nancy. Teachers learn from their students, and so it was when Nancy was my student teacher at Fairfield. Each of us learning from the other until the final adieu. Loving thoughts of Nancy to everyone, especially to Bobby, Brett and PJ and their families.

“ Bobby and family, my deepest condolences to all of you.
Remembering teaching with Nancy and holding her in great esteem, as she so inspired everyone who taught with her at Fairfield.
Hearing from her students when she did amazing lessons, so wonderful for the kids that they continued to exude the fun even in other classes. I know she made inroads in those students hearts.
Nancy will be missed by so many. Peace in all your memories.

“ *To My Beautiful, Lifelong Friend Nancy,
From the very first day we met in first grade, I knew there was something special about you. Over the years, you became so much more than a friend—you became a part of my heart, my memories, my life. You were the kind of person who lit up every room with your compassion, your intelligence, and that sharp, witty humor that never failed to make me laugh.*

You had an incredible heart—so big, so generous, so full of love. You gave without hesitation, listened without judgment, and loved with every fiber of your being. It was a privilege and a blessing to know you in life. When we were little girls we spent hours at play visiting eachothers houses, wading in the creek, at Cleveland Elementry we played chase with the boys and we were always giggling how they could not catch us. After High School I moved to California and we had lost touch but through facebook we reconnected when I posted a fourth grade class photo. You spotted the photo and said, "Hey Cat, is that you?" It was like we had never been apart. We shared our adult stories joys, tears, growing pains, and milestones. And through it all, you remained the same beautiful soul I met all those years ago.

Losing you feels like losing a part of myself. The world seems a little dimmer without your light. But I know your spirit lives on in every life you touched—including mine. I'll carry your memory with me always, holding tight to the love, the laughter, and the unbreakable bond we shared.

Thank you for being my oldest best friend—for a lifetime.

With all my love,
