“ I just thought of a little funny that the family will get a laugh over. When we were the ripe old ages of 7 and 5 Mamaw told Tracy and I to go pick blackberries and if we got enough she would make us a blackberry cobbler.. So off we went.. needless to say we got eat alive with chiggers.. Now some of the "Ohio" family may not know what a chigger is so I will tell you. It is a little red bug that gets on your skin and when it does you itch and you start scratching and the more you scratch the more you itch and that was exactly what we were doing so "Doctor Mamaw" says get in the bath tub girls I will take care of those chiggers... so in the tub we went and what did Mamaw do??? You guessed it she poured it full of Clorox Bleach.. Needless to say we stopped scratching and starting squawling like to wild Indians because if you remember we have scratched all over so we were as raw as two sore tailed kittens.. Mamaw cured us from "Chiggers" and gave "Papaw" the laugh of the century.. What memories I have!!! So precious. Love Vera (Joppy)..

“ When I think back on my life from a very small child all of my memories include "Tracy". If I were to start telling all we did as children and teenagers we would be here all night. My fondest memories are when Tracy started coming to church and would sit with me every time the Pastor would ask someone to read from the Bible and Tracy would jump in there and read the entire lesson.. I cannot type for crying so I will stop... Tracy holds a special place in my heart and she will never be forgotten. I wish I could be there but sadly I cannot my boss is out of the country. Your Cousin Vera (Joppy)..

Micah/Becca/Aunt Alma Jean/Lisa,
Words cannot express how sorry I am for this tragic loss.
Love You all.

“ Oh the crazy nights we spent in your Chevette. Trying to get home before curfew. Or the times we spent hunting Beanie Babies. Or when me and the boys lived with you and the kids while Mike was gone for duty. Im sorry I don't get to come and say goodbye tomorrow but you will always be in my heart. I love you sweet friend!! Rest in peace.

“ I can remember the night Tracy was born. I couldn't wait to see her. I thought she was a beautiful baby girl, but why not, I always thought Alma Jean was a pretty woman also. While growing up I always felt like Tracy and Steve and Lisa were more like siblings than cousins. I still feel like that. I still miss Steven and I'll always miss Tracy. This seems so unreal. My heart and love goes out to Alma Jean and Lisa. You are not alone because I love you both.
